Advanced Forum Free

A tool designed for those website owners interested in implementing various discussions in their sites with a minimum of effort. With the help of this application, users can not only implement discussions on their websites, but they can also assign HTML header and footer to them. Basically, the application has been designed to provide forums with looks similar to those of any other web page. For website owners, this small piece of software can prove a full-featured forum for their products. The tool comes in the form of an executable file that weighs no more than 30kb, which makes it one of the smallest utilities of the kind. However, despite coming in such a lightweight package, the program can still offer powerful capabilities to all users, even to those without advanced computer skills. In order to take advantage of its capabilities, users need to upload the executable file to their cgi-bin, and then simply open a browser and write its address there. The application has been designed with password protection capabilities too, so that only authorized people have access to the administration area of a forum. With the help of this piece of software, users can set a moderator password, while also having the option to provide other people with moderator rights. At the same time, the application can be used to password-protect the access to the forum, or to restrict the posting on the forum to those users who know the password. Advanced Forum ensures that administrators and moderators have full access to all of the necessary management operations, including the right to delete various posts, all directly from the admin area. This software is freeware, it doesn't matter if you use it free for trial, without registration, without limit, for personal or business use. All the users have the right to download, or try the trial version, with no guarantee, no limitation, without limit or period. Freeware can be shareware, shareware is a mix of free software and shareware that gives the user the right to install and use the software, but the user can not distribute the software. P2P For All is a utility to decrease bandwidth and time of downloads from sites like rapidshare, uploadedfile and many others. If you got a lot of files from download sites, this software will save your connection from this boring downloading of big files. If you got on your computer a lot of p2p files, this software will manage your bandwidth so much! Just download the client (free) from www.downloader. 09e8f5149f
