With Apple's OS X being a Unix-based operating system, it is my understanding that the questions about applications and toolkits on the Unix Stack Exchange are on-topic. However, I am still very unsure whether Mac questions are on-topic on the site. The help page doesn't mention anything about these. Is there a clear and unambiguous exception when it comes to questions about Apple's operating system? A: The Unix Stack Exchange should be able to answer questions about the applications and tools written for OS X, too. The only thing that would be off-topic would be questions about how to use the OS X tools and apps in 3da54e8ca3
