How Are Your Relationships? Tennis is in full swing here in Gilly's hometown of Omaha. She went out to a local partner's for a four-hour group doubles tennis outing, and remembered the times she played her college tennis and how much she enjoyed and also dreaded the time they were all together. "With people I know I'm kind of that way," she said. "If it's just friends, it's usually fun. If it's my boyfriend or someone I'm dating, I want to be with them." Even though tennis is in the air, there's also a lot of talk of relationships in this day and age. "Picking up a tennis partner isn't easy," said Gilly. "When you find someone you really like, you want to know if they're coming along to play tennis and if they're interested in dating you. There are a lot of fish in the sea out there; you just have to find your fish." Have you been thinking about dating but just haven't gotten your courage up to do so? Still, tennis is in your air, so it's something to consider. Gilly's not sure if she'd play tennis in the hopes of finding a partner but said it's something that could happen. "I don't want to give up on something so great to be by myself," she said. Have a question for Dr. Gilly? Tweet it using the hashtag #AskDrGilly, or e-mail askdrgilly@harold.com.
