The most wanted feature and need of the hour is integration of the much-expected visual effects in all the new windows. So the new user will have to just one single program to get their desired results. The new features in Windows 10 are very welcomed, and for this product, it`s the ones that make the most and contributes to the customer experience. The biggest improvement with Windows 10 is that it now uses DirectX 12, although it`s not used in as much as Windows 7 was. The DirectX 12 games seem to run faster, and that`s something that the customer will be happy about. There`s also support for NVidia UDAAPI, and those games that use it, in Windows 10, are much faster, and more stable in general. Microsoft has introduced support for DirectAudioDevice, and hardware developers are allowed to make software drivers for their DirectAudioDevice`s. It`s a huge plus for the customer, as now c6a93da74d
