Turabian, A guide for authors of scientific articles, abstracts and dissertations, published in 2013. New section "Letter for presentations". The new coating provides "flexibility" and "stability" to your presentations. It's not just a PowerPoint presentation. There are several presentation templates on the site that you can choose from and use as a basis for creating your own project. In this case, you can "pull up" the template for your own needs. For example, if you want the presentation to meet the PMI standard or be designed according to the corporate style of your company.
