The last few months have been mostly positive in terms of game development and we're really excited about what the coming months will bring. We've also been developing and publicising our new digital distribution platform, which can be found at <https://www.svengaming.com/> and will be released a little later this year. We're still in the early stages but we're going to do a lot in the coming months. We're really looking forward to hearing your feedback and suggestions for future development! So, I know that you've been eagerly waiting for the release of Sven Co-op, and we are actively working on it! But we are also going to release a small DLC for the map pretty soon so that you can play it before the full release. We're still waiting for a Steam update but it isn't something that's going to take much time. We'll make sure to let you know as soon as we know when it's released! The old project that I'd mentioned was a story that I'd started creating a map for a video game long ago. However, when I decided to use that as the base of a map for Sven Co-op, I realized that there was much more to it than I had originally imagined. The idea was of three factions at war, with a dystopian future where a corrupt military forces the use of voxel technology to brainwash and control the masses into a mechanized society. In other news, off course, we've been hard at work creating a new in-game educational system. It will replace one of the existing learning tutorials with "Sven Ureko's Guide to Sven Co-op" that will teach you how to get the most out of your Sven, and even get stronger. The aim of the guide is to teach Sven new tricks and/or ways to level-up, and also aims to convince you into trying out all of the new features and balancing!
