
ONE OK ROCK - 2013 JINSEI X KIMI TOUR 2013 -MPEG2HDTV 40 |WORK|

This is dedicated to everyone who has bought the Jinsei x Kimi DVD/Bluray and made our boys No.1 in the Oricon DVD chart last week. And, of course, to those who have gone broke because theyre supporting OORs Who Are You, Who Are We tour. See you guys at the lives! This is dedicated to everyone who has bought the Jinsei x Kimi DVD/Bluray and made our boys No.1 in the Oricon DVD chart last week. And, of course, to those who have gone broke because theyre supporting OORs Who Are You, Who Are We tour. See you guys at the lives! This is dedicated to everyone who has bought the Jinsei x Kimi DVD/Bluray and made our boys No.1 in the Oricon DVD chart last week. And, of course, to those who have gone broke because theyre supporting OORs Who Are You, Who Are We tour. The storyline is about a man who wants to be a successful rock star and his wish comes true on the last day of high school. At his graduation ceremony, many of his classmates pass away from an electric accident. He wishes to save them all from the tragedy of death, but things turn out to be more complicated than he thought. The album features very strong rock styles but also some ballads. The scale of the stadium is usually from 9,800 to 13,000 (75-84 meter) capacity, but in this tour, the average capacity is more than 9,000 (86-93 meter). The stadium is a flexible, large floating roof, which is able to have all the temporary stands erected on the stage. They are known to be hard core fans who rarely rest, but just before their tour he suffered a case of foot neuritis and required the use of crutches. He told the media that he felt that there was a kind of 'can't cope' feeling for a while, but now that he's playing on stage again, he is determined to overcome all his difficulties and be grateful to his fans.

Another criteria for choosing the music we use, is the series itself. For Evangelion, we wanted to use an all-English cast, so we asked what the Japanese was like, and decided it was okay if its mostly spoken. For Tokyo Magnetshiin GoGoV we wanted something with huge chorus, so we were thinking about bringing back our classics. For Gurren Lagann, we wanted something that was hard and energetic, so we wanted to use that type of song. And for this tour, we wanted a song that had a long lasting effect, so we picked Kimi ga ita Kara.

So theres this longstanding theory going around that we make our songs so loud because we want listeners to come see us.
Before the tour we were like, What are you talking about? But theres an old superstition that if you listen to your music through headphones, if you put on just one earbud, if your listener is out of your headphones and you put your headphones back on, then it'll start raining and that's how we believe that there's some magical power that comes with the noise of the music. Also, if you turn up the volume, you might damage your ears. So we had to have it REALLY loud. Hatsune Miku, who starred in several Gainax works, was indeed there to sing during the closing video for Kimigayo. Oda even took Miku's place on some song, as evidenced by the fact that the drummer was a girl. While this may be an unusual way to start a review, the fact that Gainax is the creators of FLEET SUPER-ROAD is an automatic bonus for me! I took the train to the Tokyo University of the Arts (known as TUAT, or University of Tokyo of Arts and Crafts), where the Gainax building is located. I walked across campus, looking in to the student dorms, wondering if and when theyll recognize me. I wasnt recognized, but I did see some of my favorite classmates, Shoko, Miku, Mei and all others I havent seen in a while. When I arrived at the building, I was greeted by the lovely

Tuu and Yui, Gainaxs official mascot. They offered me a tour of the place and I saw, as they had mentioned, the studio where the FLEET SUPER-ROAD soundtrack was recorded. There was also the actual FLEET

SUPER-ROAD costumes, as well as many other props like the pod car from the final battle of the game, plus the gigantic teddy bear and the black package with the dodgy logo the boys were carrying on the back of the teddy bear!
