Israel's Bibi Plays Hardball In West Bank Israel's Bibi Netanyahu has decided to toughen up his military policy in the West Bank. He won't hesitate to use lethal force against Palestinian rioters. The Israeli defense minister warns that the government is preparing a military operation against Palestinian "rioters" who are causing problems in the West Bank. He says the Palestinians are making a last-ditch attempt to isolate Israel internationally. Netanyahu has been trying to improve the shaky peace with the Palestinians. He is due to meet President Barack Obama in Washington in early May. An Israeli soldier in the West Bank In one of his recent visits to the occupied territories, Bibi was annoyed to see Palestinian youths throwing stones at Israeli soldiers. So he made it clear that they would not be tolerated. "We are prepared to use live fire against people throwing stones in the West Bank," Bibi was quoted as saying by the Hebrew daily Haaretz. "This must stop." Israel considers all Palestinian protesters, even those who throw stones, to be terrorists. So they don't hesitate to arrest them. According to the Israeli defense minister, the military government has arrested more than 400 people this month. Israel is building more military checkpoints and has a huge Israeli army presence in the West Bank. Israeli settlers often attack the Palestinians, who want to establish a Palestinian state on the West Bank. The Palestinians are fighting back. The protesters are demanding that the United Nations should establish a court to try Israelis in the occupied territories. Many people have been injured in clashes between the Palestinians and the Israeli forces. It is the Palestinians who seem to be backing out of the peace process. Bibi says that Israel has no intention to change its military rule in the West Bank. He will never allow a Palestinian state to be established there. The Palestinians want to fight for their independence from Israel. They insist on their right to establish a state. However, Israel is already in control of more than 50% of the Palestinian land.
